Hotel Vila Galé Marina ★★★★★

The Hotel Vila Galé Marina is an elegantly appointed hotel situated only a very short stroll from the internationally renowned Vilamoura Marina, which is clearly visible from the upper floors of the hotel. It offers spacious, comfortable and fashionable ambiances throughout. Situated at the very heart of the resort, it occupies one of the very best locations in Vilamoura, and offers easy walking access to a wide variety of restaurants, bars, and shops selling high quality goods. Given its location, the hotel unsurprisingly features nautically themed decorations and is above all an ideal choice for people with mild mobility difficulties, as the surrounding central area of the resort is both highly compact and almost entirely flat.

Vilamoura

Vilamoura is a purpose built resort that was constructed around a little used small natural harbour. Its construction began in 1966, and an extremely successful project has resulted, in that Vilamoura is now one of Southern Europe's leading golf resorts, one of Portugal's principal conferencing centres, and features by far the largest and most sophisticated marina in the south of the country, capable of mooring over 1,000 vessels. As a result of this success it features an abundance of facilities offering entertainment of many kinds, a wide range of fine dining experiences, sophisticated boutique shopping, and the possibility of practising a number of sports.

The Algarve

The Algarve has long been famous for its mild winter temperatures, sandy beaches and picturesque fishing communities. Formerly an independent kingdom within the medieval Iberian Moorish empire, its traditional architecture and tilework still manifest influences from that time, as do the many orange, lemon, olive and almond groves that exist due to the Moors introduction of these trees to the region. The former Moorish regional capital of Silves lies within easy reach of Albufeira, as do the unspoilt Monchique mountains and the picture postcard village of Alte. For bowlers the region harbours the additional charm of featuring some of the few grass greens in the Mediterranean.

Optional Excursion Possibilities

Alluring Lagos:

In the 15th century, Portugal was the leading maritime nation in Europe, with Lagos the country's most important naval port. This was largely due to a royal prince, Prince Henry the Navigator, who spent much of his life in Lagos. Many buildings, together with significant portions of the original city wall, remain from Lagos's golden age and afford the town considerable charm.

Faro & The Ria Formosa:

Faro is an atmospheric historic city that retains much of its medieval charm. Two historic gateways and its ancient cathedral are perhaps its stand-out monuments, but its sleepy streets and squares are equally alluring. The Ria Formosa (beautiful estuary) meanwhile is a natural haven for both aquatic and bird life which we explore by boat.

Timeless Tavira:

Tavira was located on the coast, at a river mouth but silt from the river rendered it unnavigable and then pushed Tavira further inland. As a result, development in Tavira largely froze with its non-viability as a port leaving us with a sleepy historic riverside city that offers architectural delights, riverside restaurants, medieval alleyways and a citadel to explore.
